In the school of CCA we do a program or a show in which the students sing songs, act, or tell stories. Thanks to the teacher Mr. Lemuel de Lemus because he is the one that plans all the songs, dances and acts we do in this presentation. The program is to represent the true meaning of Christmas.

Book Review

By: Haydeé Sucre, 3rd grade

Title: Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Askaban by J.K. Rowling

Genre: Fantasy Fiction

Rating: *****

Prisoner of Askaban

Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Askaban is the third in a series of seven books about Harry Potter. It is a magical book about a boy names Harry Potter and his adventures with his friends Heirmione Granger and Ron Weasley. My favorite part is when they go back in time with the time turner and they remember Dumbledore saying, "If this plan goes well more than one innocent life may be spared." You should read it!

The Happy Gingerbread House

By: Owen Chen, 3rd Grade

There was a Gingerbread house who was in a Super Market. The Gingerbread house wanted to be bought. He kept saying to everyone who comes near him "pick me." But no one did. The Gingerbread house saw a candy cane in a basket and asked "Why do people buy you?" "They buy me because I am so cheap." The candy cane replied. The Gingerbread house waited until Black Friday. The Gingerbread house saw a sign that says "for free!" The Gingerbread house took the sign and put it on himself. Then someone picks him and buys him.

When the Gingerbread house saw the house He was so thankful that he has a Gingerbread house family. And he was so cheerful that frosting came out of his eyes. One day a delicious smell came from the kitchen. The Gingerbread house peeked in the kitchen and saw a Gingerbread man and a bowl of candy canes. The Gingerbread house called to the Gingerbread man and the Candy canes. They came to the Gingerbread house. Then, they all went to the table to have a very fun party. The little Candy cane and the fluffy Gingerbread man dance happily in the Gingerbread house.

A mint bravely stepped into the kitchen and saw a lot of cookies. The mom puts the cookies on the table. The cookies were so joyful to be out of the oven. The next day the candy cane came out of the house and heard someone say "When can we eat the food on the table?" The someone said "tomorrow." He was so scared he ran back out and told everyone. Everyone was scared then they made a plan to lock the Gingerbread house's door and hide in them. The next day they locked the doors and hide in them. The next day they locked the doors and the kid could not open them. Later everyone come out and were happily celebrating that they were not eaten.
